

Constructed-Response (CR) Sample Item Grades MS and HS

In the 1950s and 1960s, several different groups developed to fight issues of segregation and civil rights across the U.S. Two of the dominant groups were the SNCC and the SCLC.

Part A

Identify the demographic characteristics of people who made up the majority of the members of both SNCC and SCLC.

Part B

Explain how each group used different tactics to bring attention to civil rights issues.
